Initial Plan Description

As a progressive district, Santa Rosa has high expectations for our teachers. We expect each teacher to be highly qualified in the field of education and prepared to provide our students with a learning environment that promotes and stimulates academic growth. The purpose of the Alternative Certification Program (ACP) is to provide "A Journey to Success" filled with support and practical tools for new teachers who are non-education majors. While our school district historically does not have an abundance of non-teacher trained applicants, we have designed our Alternative Certification Program to work hand in hand with our Professional Orientation Program (POP) for all newly hired teachers. The POP materials are provided to all beginning teachers as a part of the required New Employee Orientation.

We currently have one means approved by which non-education majors may complete the program requirements. Beacon Educator has partnered with the district to provide a flexible program for our Alternative Certification Program. Participants will complete the Beacon Educator online coursework to satisfy program requirements.

Information is provided for our alternative certification applicants annually at a meeting usually held at Avalon Middle School. Beacon is invited to attend and present the course information. In addition, several universities attend to present and answer questions regarding college coursework programs that are available, but not a part of this endorsement program. College course work, or Beacon online coursework may not be combined.

Procedures

Once an applicant applies for a temporary certificate, is screened and hired by the Santa Rosa School District, he/she will complete the New Employee Orientation Program (NEO). This program will provide them with an overview of district procedures and policies, ethics, training and key strategies in classroom management and instructional strategies. In addition to basic classroom management and instructional strategies within the NEO agenda (approximately 1½ hour face to face training session), a school-based Mentor Teacher is assigned to each new teacher. Classroom management is one of the areas that Mentor Teachers support on an ongoing basis. The site-based mentor training agenda has been provided as a part of this document.

Each teacher will complete a District Educator's Accomplished Practices Self-Assessment and begin the Professional Orientation Program. Three mentors will be assigned to each teacher. Teachers will have three years to complete the career path they select, either begin college coursework, or the Beacon online coursework.

In order to complete the Alternative Certification Program, teachers must successfully complete the New Employee Orientation Program, Professional Orientation Program, the Beacon online coursework, and achieve passing scores on the Professional Education Test, General Knowledge, and Subject Area exams. Participants will be responsible for taking the General Knowledge Exam during the fall semester. Early results from this test will allow the opportunity for remediation for participants in areas of need.

Support Team Description

Research shows us that quality mentoring and initial staff development programs are key indicators in teacher success and retention. It is our goal to provide a "Journey to Success" for our non-education degreed teachers that provides educational support classes as well as mentors. As part of our district POP each new teacher is assigned a support team with a minimum of three mentors consisting of a school administrator, 1-2 site-based Mentor Teachers and another non-school-based administrator. All schools have a minimum of one Mentor Teacher that has been trained by the district in effective mentoring skills. District Mentor Teachers receive between 15-45 hours of district face-to-face and online training. District Mentor Teachers are an additional layer of support for mentor teachers who have not received district training. In addition to the peer and administrative support teams, Mentor Teachers provide training throughout the year. District topics and guidelines are provided to the Mentor Teachers to ensure district-wide consistency. A sample training schedule is attached at the end of this section.

The Mentor Team and the partnership consultants will meet appropriately during the year to develop, monitor, and adjust strategies linked to the identified goals. The collaborative relationships are intended to be mutually beneficial and to serve as a catalyst for quality enhancement for the Alternative Certification participants.

Opportunities for Supporting Roles of Collaborative Partners

Professional Orientation Program Team Mentors Definitions and Responsibilities

Beginning Teacher (Full Year Program) - A teacher who holds a bachelor's degree, temporary certificate or equivalent vocational level temporary certificate and who has not completed the Professional Orientation Program. In order to participate in the program, the BT must be employed a minimum of four hours per day and must complete a full school year of 180 days, plus pre- and post-planning.

Responsibilities:

1. To participate in observation and evaluation procedures, including pre- and post-observation conferences.
2. To assist in the formulation of his/her professional development plan.
3. To participate in individual and group inservice activities as needed.
4. To participate in the development of a portfolio.
5. To demonstrate the Educator's Accomplished Practices.

Mentor: Building Level Administrator - A certified, school-based administrator.

Responsibilities:

1. To select a support staff and notify the members of their responsibilities.
2. To assemble the support staff of mentors in order to outline strategy and to resolve conflicts that may develop.
3. To request and participate in inservice training of the support staff as needed.
4. To make at least two, preferably three, formal observations of each beginning teacher annually.
5. To participate in the formulation of each beginning teacher's professional development plan.
6. To conduct the final evaluation of each beginning teacher and verify whether the satisfactory demonstration of Educator's Accomplished Practices has been accomplished. (Principal must do this.)
7. To maintain portfolios for the period of time required by MIS Records Management (five years).

Mentor: Peer Teacher - An experienced teacher who holds a valid regular certificate and teaches at the same level, in the same subject area, or the same service area as the beginning teacher.

This teacher shall possess the special knowledge and competencies needed to provide adequate support for the development of the beginning teacher. National Board Certified Teacher Mentors and/or District trained Mentors may be a Peer Teacher.

Responsibilities:

1. To participate in inservice training activities as needed.
2. To participate in the formulation of the beginning teacher's professional development plan.
3. To assist the beginning teacher in preparing daily, weekly, and long range lesson plans when needed.
4. To make a minimum of two formal and periodic informal observations of the beginning teacher during the program year.
5. To provide feedback, instruction, and counseling to the beginning teacher.

Mentor: Other Professional Educator MENTOR - A professionally trained and experienced individual. This may include, but is not limited to, teacher education center directors, staff development specialists, curriculum directors, instructional supervisors or specialists, college or university teacher educators.

Responsibilities:

1. To participate in inservice training activities as needed.
2. To make a minimum of two formal observations of the beginning teacher during the program year.
3. To participate in the formulation of the beginning teacher's professional development plan.
4. To provide resources and support to the beginning teacher.

Selection

The principal should select the mentors of a peer teacher and another professional educator for service on a beginning teacher's team within two weeks of the BT's hiring. This notification should be in writing, either in the form of a letter or memorandum.

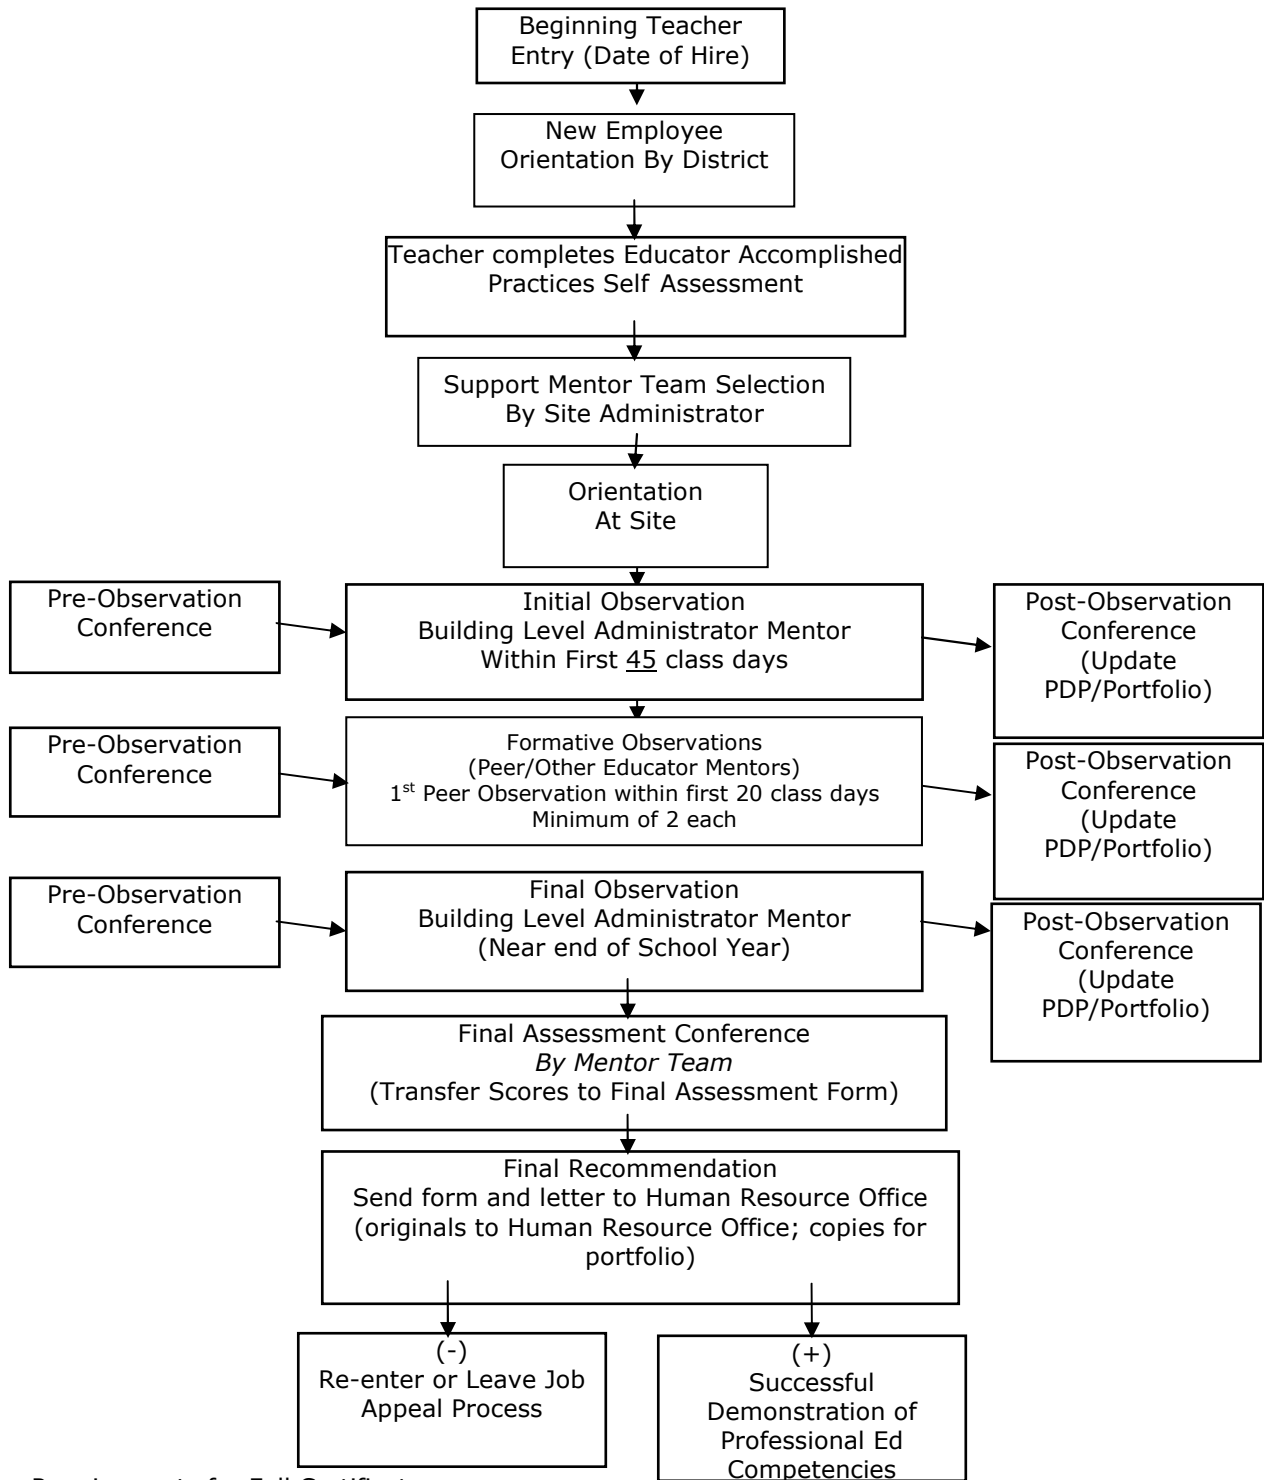

When possible, county staff administrators should be invited to serve as the other educator mentors on beginning teacher teams. This gives them an excellent opportunity to share their expertise and is a good internal marketing technique.

Team Meetings

As soon as possible after the mentors are selected, the team (beginning teacher, building level administrator, peer teacher, and other educator) should meet as a group to review the expectations of each person's role, timelines, the BT's professional development plan, and other important matters.

At the initial meeting, the team will determine two team meeting dates in addition to an end of the year meeting date. Other meetings may be convened based on need as the beginning teacher progresses through the program.

The Observation Process

Every first year teacher in the Professional Orientation Program will have a minimum of six formal observations conducted during the program year. Each will be preceded by a conference between the beginning teacher and the support staff mentor who will observe. Following each observation, another conference will be held between the two to discuss the observation findings. It is during the post-conference that entries will likely be made into the professional development plan, targeting an area that should be improved and outlining strategies.

An observation instrument has been developed for use in Santa Rosa District Schools. The instrument is used to help the observer record data that is used to document the Florida Educator's Accomplished Practices and to assist the beginning teacher in areas needing improvement. The instrument also provides opportunities for feedback on areas in which the beginning teacher excels.

The instrument is used to collect data for two types of observations that are described below.

Summative Observations -- There are two summative formal observations. The observer documents teacher behaviors to gain an overview of a teacher's performance. In the Professional Orientation Program, the summative observation will be used at least twice, both times by the building level administrator.

1. First use occurs during the first 45 days after the first formal by a peer mentor, which is conducted within the first 20-days of the beginning teacher's program year. The findings of the first formal observation will help determine the course for future observations; therefore, it is called the screening or diagnostic summative observation.
2. The building level administrator makes a final observation of teacher's overall performance during a beginning teacher's program year. Using it and other data gleaned throughout the program, the principal, with input from the mentor team, makes an evaluative decision regarding the teacher's completion or non-completion of the program.

A summative observation may also be used at other times; for example, when the beginning teacher's program year is interrupted by a change in school sites or in counties of employment, or when the building level administrator deems it appropriate.

Formative Instruments– There are also formative observations. Since a formative observation is designed for the observation of teaching performance in a very limited area, it is used to help focus on specific teaching skills and abilities. The results of these observations are used to help the beginning teacher develop greater competence.

Use of the Formative Observation

If, after the screening/diagnostic summative observation is completed, it is determined that one or more specific areas of the beginning teacher's performance need(s) further development, the formative observation for the identified areas will be used as frequently and as repeatedly as necessary. If, however, it is determined that no particular areas of the BT's performance need further development, it is recommended that all formative observations be completed by Mentor team members to verify competencies of Educator Accomplished Practices be used. A logical way to divide the observations would be for the peer teacher mentor and the other educator mentor to complete two or three observations each.

The Flow of the Observation Process

In addition to the "how's" and "why's" of the observation process discussed above, another important element is "when."

The first (screening/diagnostic) summative observation must be completed within 20 class days of the beginning teacher's employment.

Soon thereafter, the peer teacher mentor and other educator mentor should be ready to begin the formative observations and should have done at least one each before the end of the first semester.

The final summative observation should be completed as near the end of the program year as practical to give the BT a full year to work toward excellence.

The Portfolio

Each beginning teacher is required to develop a portfolio containing items that document the successful completion of program activities. Some items must be included in the portfolio and others are optional, to be added at the BT's discretion or upon recommendation by any mentor of the support staff. The decision regarding where the portfolio will be housed during the BT's program year is at the principal's discretion. In some schools, the beginning teacher maintains it; in others, it is kept in the front office or in the peer teacher mentor's room.

Below is a list of the items required in the Santa Rosa District Professional Orientation Program along with a brief description of each.

1. Beacon– All partnership assessments and documenting evidence of coursework, tasks and artifacts are required to be included in the portfolio. Satisfactory completion of the Accomplished Practices will be indicated by a check mark on the Final Assessment Checklist (p. 37). Partners will provide teacher guidance and appropriate materials to be included for documentation.
2. Portfolio Format Checklist - Form that lists the items that are either required to be included in a portfolio or are optional. It should be completed and placed as the first item in the portfolio. The form is designed to help everyone stay on target with the program and to insure that all required documents are entered into the portfolio.
3. Recommendations - Two types of recommendations are needed for the portfolio. A letter or memo from the principal, stating whether or not the BT has successfully completed the program and a form titled the Support Mentors' Final Recommendation. There are two types: A positive recommendation and a negative recommendation (+/-). If the beginning teacher has successfully completed the program, the principal's letter or memo will reflect that status, and the "+" copy of the form will be used.

The principal's letter or memo and the Support Mentors' Final Recommendation form should be dated with the last date of the BT's program year. For a teacher who begins the first day of pre-planning, the date will be the last day of post-planning.

If the BT has not demonstrated the competencies necessary for acquiring a professional certificate in the state of Florida, the principal's letter should state that decision and the "-" copy of the Support Mentors' Final Recommendation form should be completed.

4. Copy of Temporary Certificate - A copy of the BT's temporary certificate provides important information in one handy source. Among other things, it shows the person's name, employee ID, DOE certification number, and area(s) of coverage.
5. Completed Accomplished Practices Final Assessment - Because the beginning teacher must be able to demonstrate each of the Accomplished Practices identified as essential to teaching in Santa Rosa and/or the state of Florida, this checklist provides a simple way for each member of the BT's support staff to indicate the practices they have personally observed and by what methods.
6. Summative Instruments - Please see the explanation that appears in the section of this manual titled "The Observation Process." (There will be a minimum of two summatives in a portfolio.)
7. Formative Instruments - Please see the explanation that appears in the section of this manual titled "The Observation Process." (There will be a minimum of four formatives in a portfolio.)
8. Professional Development Plan (PDC website) - An essential part of a beginning teacher's growth strategy, this plan gives all mentors of the support staff an opportunity to help the BT chart a course of improvement by specifying objectives to be achieved and strategies for accomplishing them. The form used for this part of the beginning teacher's program is the same form used in the district's teacher evaluation process.
9. Santa Rosa Teacher Assessment Instrument - Required teacher assessment instrument to which fall and spring ratings are transferred and that document the overall performance rating of all teachers in the Santa Rosa County School District.
10. Appeal Process - A form that outlines the appeal process to be followed in case of an adverse decision relative to a beginning teacher's completion of the Professional Orientation Program. It must be signed and dated by the BT early in his/her program year, then included in the portfolio as the last item of required documentation.

Other exhibits of successful performance may be included in the portfolio. Unlike the previous nine items, any other materials (pictures, lesson plans, bulletin board ideas, work sheets, art projects, etc.) entered into the portfolio are optional. Everything included in the portfolio becomes part of an official record and must be maintained in the school for a period of five years. For this reason, the BT should consider placing items into the portfolio for support documentation throughout the year. Then, upon being notified by the principal that the program has been successfully completed, the BT may remove the "optional" items for his/her own future use.

Special Considerations

In some instances, a beginning teacher is not hired the first day of pre-planning or is not hired for full-time employment. When either of these occurs, the procedures outlined below will be followed in order to facilitate the teacher's program completion.

Hired After School Starts

When beginning teachers are hired after pre-planning of their first year through the program, their program will continue the following year, allowing them to complete pre-planning experiences and to complete the required number of days for the full-year program. However, in some cases, a teacher in the program may not be employed for the second year until after pre-planning. When this happens, one of two courses of action may be implemented.

1. The principal of the potential school of employment may invite the beginning teacher to voluntarily and without pay or other benefits, come to the school and complete the various planned activities. It should be understood that by doing so, the beginning teacher is neither promised nor guaranteed employment nor successful completion of the program. It is simply an opportunity extended to the teacher in order to help him/her meet the requirement regarding the program year.
2. If circumstances do not allow the plan outlined in #1 above to be implemented, the alternative will be for the beginning teacher to voluntarily and without pay or other benefits spend the extra after-hours time it would take to gain the experiences, training, orientation, and other information and opportunities that would have been accomplished had the person been available during the regular pre-planning days. Again, it should be noted that by doing so, the beginning teacher is not guaranteed a job or successful program completion. Rather, it is simply an opportunity extended to him/her in order to help meet the requirement regarding the program year.

Hired for Part-time Employment

When a teacher is hired for less than four hours per day as stated in state board rules as the minimum for program completion, the teacher will be offered the opportunity to remain at school for the additional time, not to exceed one-half hour per day, in order to fulfill the four hour minimum requirement.

In the case of an unusual schedule when a teacher is employed for less than four hours on some days but more than four on others, if the average is four hours or more per day every week, remaining at school for extra time will not be necessary. The teacher will be allowed to complete the program just as if each day were four or more hours long.

If either option is chosen by the beginning teacher, it is to be understood that it will be without additional pay or other benefits and that it carries no promises or guarantee of successful program completion. It is simply an opportunity extended to the teacher in order to assist him/her in meeting the program requirements.

Final Assessment Form Scoring Instructions

Mentor team consensus should be reached when scoring each of the 12 Educator's Accomplished Practices Assessments. The data collected in the observations will support and provide the foundation for scoring the 12 Educator's Accomplished Practices Assessments for the district and the partnership accomplishments. Additional data should be gathered through conferences or the teacher's portfolio. Documentation should be included in the portfolio that demonstrates mastery of each area on the assessment. Demonstration of mastery should be exhibited in multiple ways, frequently and over time. A one-time demonstration may not be an indicator of mastery.

Satisfactory completion of each Educator's Accomplished Practice will be indicated using a checkmark on the Educator's Accomplished Practices Final Assessment Form (p. 51).

All 12 Educator's Accomplished Practices must be rated as "satisfactory" in both columns to result in a "satisfactory" overall assessment.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Having been offered the opportunity to complete the Alternative Certification/Professional Orientation Program, I hereby affirm that I am willing to, totally voluntarily and without additional compensation or benefits, be officially on duty for an additional amount of time each day until my participation in the program has been successfully completed. I am willing to do this because under my current part-time salaried contract I am teaching less than four hours per day, and the State Board Rule defines a "day" for Professional Orientation Program purposes as being four hours minimum. I am willing to stay on duty for that period of time each day in order to be eligible for the program.

I understand that my signing this statement is, in effect, a request on my part for special consideration and that other people will become involved as a result. Therefore, I understand that I will be obligated to continue putting in a four hour day for the duration of my Alternative Certification/Professional Orientation Program participation, which length of time will be determined by the evaluations conducted under program guidelines.

As Building Level Administrator for the above signed individual, I hereby indicate that I am willing to allow and to document his/her being on duty for an additional period of time daily to make a total of at least four hours each day, until he/she has successfully completed the Alternative Certification/Professional Orientation Program.

I have explained to this part-time salaried employee that this is an optional opportunity and can be done only voluntarily and without additional compensation or benefits, but that once this agreement is executed, he/she will be obligated to carry through until such time as he/she has completed the Alternative Certification/Professional Orientation Program.

SANTA ROSA ALTERNATIVE CERTIFICATION PROFESSIONAL ORIENTATION PROGRAM

Appeal Process

If the principal notifies a program participant that he/she has failed to successfully complete the Alternative Certification/Professional Orientation Program, and if the teacher feels the negative recommendation is unjust, he/she may file an appeal within ten work days of the notification to that effect using the following procedures.

1. The teacher may appeal in writing to the school principal asking for a reconsideration of the decision. The principal will review the information at hand, meet with the support staff, and make a recommendation within five work days of receiving the request. The principal's recommendation must be in writing and sent to the teacher by certified mail with a copy put into the teacher's portfolio.
2. If the principal's recommendation remains negative, the teacher may, within five work days of receiving the negative recommendation, appeal in writing to the superintendent. The superintendent or his/her designee will review the portfolio, interview the teacher and members of the support staff, if necessary, and make a recommendation, all within ten work days of the receipt of the appeal request. The teacher will be notified in writing by certified mail, and a copy of the decision will be placed in the teacher's portfolio.
3. If the superintendent's or his/her designee's recommendation is negative, the Certification Section of the state department will be notified of the district's decision not to verify the successful completion of the program, providing proof of notification to the teacher. Within 90 days, the Commissioner will notify the teacher that his/her application for a professional certificate has been denied, and that he/she may appeal to the Education Practices Commission under Section 1012.795, Florida Statutes and Rule 6B-11.005, FAC.

It shall be the burden of the teacher to show that he/she has met the criteria for successful completion. The Education Practices Commission shall issue a final order granting or denying the certificate after an informal hearing before that commission or a formal hearing before the Division of Administrative Hearings.
